CONGREGATION OF HAWKEYES AT RIVERSIDE

Annual Picnic of the Iowa Society Yesterday at Riverside a Successful Festival from Every Point of View

The Iowa picnic held at Riverside park yesterday afternoon was a decided success from many view points. The attendance was large, thus affording an opportunity to former residents of the Hawkeye state for the making of new acquaintances and the renewing of old ones. A program of speaking followed the picnic dinner which was served at noon while a number of athletic and fun-making contests concluded the day. In all about two hundred and fifty former residents of Iowa were in attendance and participated in the election of officers for the ensuing year and the making of plans for several events which will be fathered by the Iowa Society of Arizona before the next annual picnic. One of the most enjoyed features of the day was the reading of an original poem by its author Mr. Andrew Downing. Of the ninety-nine counties in Iowa thirty-seven were represented at the picnic.

The day could not have been more ideal for an outdoor gathering and it was long before noon that the members of the society and their friends, former residents of the state, began to gather at Riverside. The coming of the picnicers continued until the noon hour when Dr. J. C. Norton, the president of the Iowa Society of Arizona announced on behalf of the ladies who had been preparing the picnic lunch that the spread was ready to be served. The table arrangements had been in charge of Mrs. Gates and the Misses Lydia Evans and Marietta Norton. Messrs. Comstock, Duffy and Tannehill had previously superintended the making of the coffee. So many were the baskets and so delicious were the various picnic dishes that over an hour was spent by the Iowans at the picnic tables.

The tables cleared away Dr. Norton gave the assembled guests a history of the forming of the Iowa society and the various events heretofore participated in by the members of the organization. Andrew Downing for years a resident of Boone county, Iowa, and the first postmaster of Boone, the county seat, read an original poem, "The Hawkeyes." Mr. Downing, the year before, had composed the Iowa song which was later sung in chorus by the assemblage. The address of the day, "Early Reminiscences of Iowa," was made by Judge G. W. Barrows, a former resident of Wayne county. It had been the speaker's advantage to have been a resident of Iowa for many years following 1870 and he had traveled or resided in every county of the state. His first visit to Iowa, however, was made when a boy of ten years of age in 1858, when as a truant he ran away from his home in Illinois. The speaker was thoroughly versed with the subject of his address and his delivery was particularly pleasing. He made many comparisons showing to the advantage of Iowa in reference to other states the financial condition of the home state, the low rate of illiteracy, good roads mileage, the transportation facilities which made possible unusual market conditions.

In connection with the market conditions he told the story of the 1910 bumper crop when Iowa harvested over $1,000,000 worth of corn. He recalled to the minds of his listeners that Iowa has no bonded debt and that none is permissible under the state constitution, only for the purpose of repelling an invasion in the contingency of war. He spoke of the dairy resources of Iowa pointing out the fact that the state of New York alone exceeds that state of all the states in the union in the value of such products.

C. W. Comstock told several good stories on and about Iowans. He was followed by Herbert W. Patrick and Ned Creighton, who made brief remarks which concluded the program. Creighton was called upon by Dr. Norton for the purpose of showing a specimen in aviculture and what Arizona climate could and had done for a son of Iowa.

The business meeting held for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year resulted in the election of Dr. J. C. Norton of Iowa, president; G. W. Barrows, H. D. Telford, C. W. Comstock and Chas. Bandy, vice presidents; A. G. Hulet, treasurer, and Mrs. Raymond M. Gates, secretary.

The program of sports arranged by Messrs. Telford, Shirley Christy and Comstock concluded the events of the day. There was a girl's smiling race, peanut race, men's laughing race, potato race, women's egg race, and boy's whirling race. All were eagerly contested and afforded no end of amusement for the picnicers. It was late in the afternoon when the Hawkeye folk found their way back to town from the park and to their homes. It had been a pleasant day for all of them.

MAN WHO ASSAULTED POLICEMAN IS CAUGHT

Harry Winston Is Now Serving Thirty Day Jail Sentence

Harry Winston is a prisoner in the city jail, serving a sentence of thirty days for vagrancy, following his conviction in the city police court yesterday before Magistrate McBride. He had been picked up by Policeman Valenzuela, who is said to have discovered him in the act of begging money from a woman.

When Winston was brought to the police station, Policeman Hunt took a glance at him and immediately recognized him as the man with whom he had an encounter a few nights ago and who managed to escape just as the officer was about to place him under arrest. Winston, according to Hunt, struck him and nearly knocked him down, and thereupon took to his heels. Policeman Hunt sent several shots in his general direction but failed to bring him to a stop.

SUB-CASING MAN IS HERE TO DO BUSINESS

J. F. Tull Locates Service Station for Tire Device With Reliable Rubber Company

A big Pope-Hartford "Fifty" has been attracting a great deal of attention on the streets of Phoenix during the past four days. It is a car that belongs to J. F. Tull, state distributor for the famous Fisher "Rim-Grip" sub-casings, who has placed a service station in Phoenix at the Reliable Rubber Works, 306 North Central Avenue. Mr. Tull is demonstrating these well-known sub-casings, which are an inner reinforcement, to prevent blow-outs and punctures and increase the mileage of the tires.

Fisher "Rim-Grip" sub-stations are located in practically every state and town in the state of California. Service stations have been placed in practically all of the northern Arizona towns. From Phoenix Mr. Tull will go to Florence, Tucson, Nogales, Douglas, Bisbee and the rest of southern and eastern Arizona towns, and will then continue to work in the eastern field.

Mr. Tull came in via the Northern route, and reported the road in fair shape. He is enthusiastic about the general business conditions throughout the state of Arizona, and was agreeably surprised at the high state of development of this part of Arizona.

Boy Scout Doings

The "Y" Boy Scouts have formed a Poultry club under the direction of J. Albert Liggett. There are fifteen boys enrolled in the club. They meet each Tuesday night for discussion. The object of the club is to promote among the boys an egg-laying contest and the hatching of chickens. Each boy takes six hens and he is graded on the number of eggs laid, care taken of the chickens, cost of the eggs in production. A written account is made of this and the accounts are sent to the University of Arizona agricultural department for grading. Prizes and medals are given to the winners.

A debating club has been organized among the Boy Scouts under the direction of R. E. Boardman. The first debate will be next Friday evening. The question being: "Resolved that capital punishment should be abolished." The teams will be composed of three on a side. The club meets Monday afternoon for coaching at the "Y."

A signal corps has been formed. There are ten boys in a corps. The semaphore system is being used. The boys are practicing and expect to try it out on the over-night camp that takes place in the near future. The boys are also preparing to use the same on the Roosevelt hike after school is out. Some of the boys are becoming expert and will soon be able to signal for a distance of two miles.
